DYEHOUSE LAB TRAINEE

The Dyehouse is a key starting point in the creation of our luxury scarves, rugs, home accessories and interior fabrics and we are proud to supply world renowned luxury brands with the highest quality cashmere and fine woollen products. We are involved in the development and successful extension of our own authentic luxury accessory brand.

Working alongside our designers to create and develop a palette of colours for each seasons new range your training and knowledge will be key to providing the leading couture houses with bespoke colours to showcase their products.

As part of our succession plan, we are looking to appoint an individual seeking a long term career and who will undergo in-depth training over the next 4 to 5 years in all aspects of the dyehouse operation. On completion of the training, your career will involve playing a major part in delivering the department goals to meet the business needs/requirements, whilst enjoying the financial rewards for such a position.

To succeed in this position the successful candidate will most likely have a keen interest in science and Higher or A level or HNC in Chemistry.

Initially training will consist of participation in the Modern Apprenticeship programme and on-the-job learning dyehouse procedures and dyeing of fibre processes. Bespoke training will also be arranged on and off site which will require overnight stays away from home, and this training will include further education, study and examinations, and on successful completion you will be qualified to degree equivalent.

The successful will be flexible and adaptable, practical and meticulous with high standards of work, and able to work on their own initiative within a team environment. Good colour vision is essential. This position is not suitable for anyone with a pacemaker. Rotational shift pattern on completion of training.

Adult rate of pay – Earn while you Learn.

To apply please send your application form/CV
HR, Johnstons of Elgin, Newmill, Elgin, IV30 4AF or applications@johnstonsofelgin.com